The book attempts to make students understand the subject with its application in the real world and not merely for the examination purposes. Though the book has been designed as per the latest CBCS curriculum of Delhi University's B.Com. (Hons.) course, it may be helpful to the students of other courses as well. The BPP Study Text provides a comprehensive treatment of the updated ACCA syllabus for P4. It addresses all learning outcomes and the higher skills required in an integrated and practical way. The material, despite the technical nature of certain areas, follows a practical, common sense approach with plenty of case studies and real life business examples. The key points of each topic are summarised in a chapter roundup and tested in a diagnostic quiz at the end of each chapter. A question bank at the end of the book provides practice on exam style questions.

Kamat Raje without an exception was born to be an engineer and figure life later on, just like every middle class parents expect from their offspring However, Kamat, the black sheep, branded a mediocre by family, inept by relatives and laughable by friends wakes up one fine day, startled, only to realize that he has been accepted in IIT Kharagpur for MBA program. While his father is still recovering from the shocking epiphany, Kamat wonders how on earth he managed to get into IIT all the while enjoying the adulation and praises from the suck up relatives and friends. He is left with no choice but to act the part as he is a now an IITian. Determined to work hard and do better, he is oblivious to a life time of adventure, an unstoppable merry-go-round he is about to enter.

Accompanied by his equally insane friends Dhruv, Harish and Anubhav. Sutta, Daaru, and Gaali become his mantra now. A popular sought after friend for every girl and despised by every boy on the campus, it is not long before Kamat realises that their fun, frolic and misdeeds would soon get them in trouble. In a jiffy, they get the drift that they are at war against every tom, geek and fairy in the campus and when they finally meet their match, all they love is at stake; friendship, career, love, life and their reputations back home. Will the pressure of being an IITian on campus too great than the pleasure of being an IITian at home. What happens next? Do they survive? Do they adapt, lickety-split? Do they turn in on their best friends? Do they rise above the glorifying praises back at home to be a true IITians with gusto? Do they create their niche of devil-may-care, easy going, free bird approach or succumb to being slaves of toppers who slog it out in a rat Burdwan, West Bengal State Universities and other universities that have adopted CBCS in accordance to UGC norms. It presents the core concepts of partnership accounts and special purpose accounts (Department, Branch, Hire Purchase, Investment Accounting, etc.) in a lucid and easy-to-understand manner. The book has been revised in light of the implications of the latest Accounting Standards and guidelines issued by ICAI. The subject of numerical methods in finance has recently emerged as a new discipline at the intersection of probability theory, finance, and numerical analysis. The methods employed bridge the gap between financial theory and computational practice, and provide solutions for complex problems that are difficult to solve by traditional analytical methods. Although numerical methods in finance have been studied intensively in recent years, many theoretical and practical financial aspects have yet to be explored. This volume presents current research and survey articles focusing on various numerical methods in finance. Key topics covered include: methodological issues, i.e., genetic algorithms, neural networks, Monte–Carlo methods, finite difference methods, stochastic portfolio optimization, as well as the application of other computational and numerical methods in finance and risk management. The book is designed for the academic community and will also serve professional investors. Contributors: K. Amir-Atefi; Z. Atakhanova; A. Biglova; O.J. Blaskowitz; D. D ' Souza; W.K. Härdle; I.
